本年10月21-25日、深圳で開催予定の
第13回PBNCに、招待講演者として
貴殿をご招待します。ご検討下さい

Dear Mr. Mori:

As you may know, the 13th Pacific Basin Nuclear Conference (PBNC2002) will be conducted in Shenzhen, China, on October 21-25, 2002, and I am greatly honored to extend an invitation to you as an invited speaker to participate in the PBNC2002.

Please recall that the 6th PBNC was held successfully in Beijing during 1987. In 2002, many experts from both inside and outside China will gather together in Shenzhen, and your exchange of current scientific and technical information about nuclear development in Japan will be much appreciated. Your presentation may be on a relevant topic or issue of your choice.

I believe that the upcoming PBNC2002 will again be very successful and will contribute significantly to the development of nuclear power in both the Pacific basin and other areas in the world. Included are some copies of Conference Announcement, please distribute the Conference information to your colleagues at your convenience.

Thank you very much for your consideration of this invitation. I look forward to meeting you at PBNC2002.

Sincerely yours,

王乃彦
